JAPANESE IRIS

The blooms of the Japanese Iris are 6 to 10 inches in diameter and coming into bloom late in June and throughout early July, they fill a space in the season when top notch blooms are scarce. They will grow in almost any soil that does not become too dry in Summer, but they prefer a warm, sunny location.

They may be planted throughout the Fall, but if planted after October 1, should be freely mulched after the ground freezes to prevent heaving.

HEMEROCALLIS (DAY LILIES)

Once established, Hemerocallis thrive and the clumps grow larger year after year. They seem to grow equally well in full sun or partial shade and are at their best by a pool or lake. The blooming season lasts from May to late Summer by arranging different varieties.

Aurantiaca major. Large orange. Blooms July.	$0.25	$2.50
Dr. Regal. Deep orange. Earliest to bloom. Fine with blue Iris.25	2.50
Flava. Clear lemon yellow. Delightful fragrance.25	2.50
Kwanso. Double deep orange. Very late. July and August.35	3.50
Thunbergi. Sweetly-scented, lemon Lily. July.55	3.50

SIBERIAN IRIS

Siberian Iris, with its grasslike foliage, should be planted freely around water. The Siberian Iris will thrive in moist locations which are too damp for most other plants; they will bloom profusely with practically no attention and are so hardy that one need only to plant them and set by and enjoy the exquisite blooms.

Sibirica (Siberian Flag). Showy blue flowers, beautifully veined with white and violet. Grows 2 to 3 ft. high, with narrow, grassy leaves.	$0.10	$0.25	$0.75
Sibirica, Emperor. Dark violet blue. Largest blooms of any of any of the Sibiricas.15	.40	1.50
Sibirica, Perry's Blue. A large flower of clear blue with horizontal falls. Probably the finest Sibirica Iris. Very popular.15	.40	1.50
Sibirica, Snow Queen. Found by Mr. Barr in Japan. Pure, glistening white with yellow throat. Grows 3½ ft. high.15	.40	1.50

Reduced Fall Prices on Nursery Material for Foundation Planting

EVERGREENS

Plantsmen have known for many years the advantage of Fall planting, but comparatively few home owners have availed themselves of this most favorable season. Evergreens are in most cases, planted more satisfactorily in August, September, and October than at any other season of the year. Cool nights, heavy dews and an abundance of rainfall in the Fall, together with the fact that most root growth is made at this time, makes this the ideal time for you to plant. Deciduous shrubs and trees are best planted after first frost; that is usually October, November, and December.

As an added inducement to Fall planting we offer annually in the Fall greatly reduced prices.

EVERGREEN FOUNDATION PLANTING

PHLOX

Following the Irises and Peonies in time of bloom, but in no way behind them in popularity, are the Hardy Perennial Phloxes. We have weeded out all the magentas and purples, and believe that our list is as select as that offered by any firm.

Phloxes are shallow-rooted plants and should, therefore, be planted a little deeper than most plants and kept well tilled to conserve the moisture, as they cannot stand dry, packed soil like Peonies and Irises. No fertilizer should be near the roots. A little bonemeal sprinkled on the surface of the ground before hoeing gives good results, but be careful not to use too much.

ALL PHLOX 2-YEAR-OLD, FIELD-GROWN, BLOOMING SIZE
